INTRODUCTION

THE buildings illustrated in this book represent some of the more prominent works erected in the State of Illinois in the years 1913 to 1916, inclusive. The purpose of this book is to convey graphically, to the citizens of the State, some idea of the great activity of its State representatives in providing suitable, modern buildings for the housing of its public wards, building up educational institutions, and providing suitable homes for the Illinois National Guard.

I have not included, nor illustrated, in this book, the numerous buildings remodeled or added to, nor underground improvements, such as tunnels, drains, etc., which alone run into many thousands of dollars.

This book is dedicated to His Excellency, the Governor, Edward F. Dunne, to whom I am greatly obligated for imposing his trust in me as State Architect, and who, throughout the entire time, gave me encouragement and valuable assistance in preparing my work. His ardent and sincere interest in the public wards of the State enabled me to incorporate the most modern ideas and inventions into my buildings and to him, more than to anyone else, the people of the State owe a debt of gratitude for the most humane housing of our dependent unfortunates. The Alton State Hospital and the State Colony for Epileptics, both nearing completion, represent, I believe, the most modern thought in hospital planning. Faults will be found at both hospitals, no doubt, but they will only appear as faults because ideas in modern hospital planning change so fast that ideas of yesterday are discarded for those of today. However, the people of the State of Illinois can congratulate themselves on having built the most complete and comprehensive epileptic colony, and the first barless (without iron bars) insane hospital in the world.

I wish to thank the various State Boards, Commissions, and Trustees, for their kind patience and assistance given me in preparing the plans for the buildings under their respective jurisdiction.

Respectfully,

JAMES B. DIBELKA,
State Architect.
